HEBER FIFTH WARD

One of the most "scattered" wards in Heber City is the Fifth Ward, which was organized on September 10, 1954 by a division of the Second Ward. It covers the area west of Main Street and North of First North all the way to and including Keetley. Yet, in spite of the fact that its members are widely dispersed, its activities and spirit are united.

When the ward was created Vernon W. Price was sustained as bishop. He chose John J. Barnard and O. Maurice Miller as counselors, and Glen Moulton and Ivan Draper as ward clerks. About a year later, Brother Barnard moved to Provo and Brother Miller became first counselor and Glen Moulton was called as the new second counselor. Ivan Draper continued as ward clerk.

Vernon W. Price
Bishop of the Heber Fifth Ward since 1954.

A building fund effort is underway in the ward and each organization is working on various fund-raising events. Already each of the auxiliary groups has donated $500 to the building fund. The ward also has a 20-acre farm to supply hay for the stake welfare farm.

Leadership in the ward has included the following:

RELIEF SOCIETY: Bernice Simpson, president, with Lona Durrant, Golda Lee and Pearl Forman, counselors, and Lavon Jones, secre-
